Description

USB C 20W wall charger black

The TB charger equipped with a USB C port with a maximum output power of 20W is fast, efficient and safe for all types of devices charged via USB. With it, you can charge both the headphones and the laptop. The charger is safe: it prevents short circuits, overheating and overcharging. Thanks to the intelligent charging functions, it adjusts the voltage and current to the device being charged, which significantly extends its battery life. Thanks to the use of high power, devices charged via the USB C port will be even half charged after 30 minutes.

The charger is made of environmentally friendly materials. The small size makes it very handy, it will work at home, office and travel (with a worldwide input voltage of 100-240 V).
